The Georgia Speech-Language-Hearing Association (GSHA) is a professional association of individuals specializing in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of communication, swallowing, and hearing disorders. The Association advocates for the professional interests of its members and the individual they serve, and provides a forum for the exchange of professional information and ideas.

Established in 1961, GSHA has a long history of providing numerous membership benefits for continuing education, leadership development, advocacy, and networking. It is the only association in Georgia recognized by the American Speech-language-Hearing Association (ASHA) as an affiliate organization. This recognition allows GSHA to collaborate with ASHA to promote and advocate optimally for the professions, association members, and consumers of audiology and speech language pathology services.
